Los angeles, anos cincuenta, una epoca fascinante llena de matices. Pornografia. Corrupcion policial. Intrigas en el hampa. Un atroz asesinato colectivo se convierte en eje central de la vida de las victimas y los verdugos. Tres policias tambaleandose en arenas movedizas: Ed Exley, sediento de gloria, capaz de violar cualquier ley con tal de eclipsar a su padre, ex policia y gran magnate. Bud White, una bomba de relojeria con placa de agente, ansioso de vengar la brutal muerte de su madre. / Ellroy's ninth novel, set in 1950s Los Angeles, kicks off with a shoot-out between a rogue ex-cop and a band of gangsters fronted by a crooked police lieutenant. Close on the heels of this scene comes a jarring Christmas Day precinct house riot, in which drunk and rampaging cops viciously beat up a group of jailed Mexican hoodlums. But, as readers will quickly learn, these sudden sprees of violence, laced with evidence of police corruption, are only teasers for the grisly events and pathos that follow this intricate police procedural. Picking up where The Black Dahlia and The Big Nowhere left off, the book tracks the intertwining paths of the three flawed and ambitious cops who emerge from the Bloody Christmas affair. Dope peddling, prostitution, and other risky business are revealed as the tightly wound plot untangles. Ellroy's disdain for Hollywood tinsel is evident at every turn; even the most noble of the characters here are relentlessly sleazy. But their grueling, sometimes maniacal schemes make a compelling read for the stout of heart.

As a university student exactly feel bored for you to reading. If their teacher requested them to go to the library or make summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's heart or real their pastime. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to the library. They go to presently there but nothing reading significantly. Any students feel that reading through is not important, boring in addition to can't see colorful images on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this L. A . Confidential can make you experience more interested to read.
