This title is suitable for children of ages 2-5. Designed to be a `Parent Love Letter`, this wonderful book will appeal to parents and grandparents everywhere. The plastic red heart nestled among the board pages is really a music box with red and orange lights that illuminate when the button on the front is pressed. The lights circle around the heart while soft music is played in the background. Children will be entranced as they listen and watch the lights as the words of the story reinforce the love the parent has for the child.
