There Are No Sad Dogs in Heaven: Finding Comfort After the Loss of a Pet Sonya Fitzpatrick

Our pets are part of the family. For many they're as close as children; for some they may be our only children. And while most of us can expect that our children will outlive us, sadly, our pets almost never do.

Losing a pet can be as difficult as losing any other family member; we grieve, we miss them, and, mostly, we want closure, to know that our furry, feathered, or scaled friends are okay, wherever they are.

For years, animal communicator Sonya Fitzpatrick has helped pet owners cope with the loss of their beloved companions. Many of them ask the same questions: Is my pet happy? Why did this happen? Is it okay to get another pet? Using her personal experiences as well as the stories of the families she's worked with, Sonya sheds some light on the questions that every grieving pet owner has, and assures the reader that there are, in fact, no sad dogs (or cats or birds or turtles or horses or cows) in heaven.

Sophie Clark:

As a university student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher expected them to go to the library or to make summary for some reserve, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's soul or real their interest. They just do what the instructor want, like asked to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring as well as can't see colorful images on there. Yeah, it is to be complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this There Are No Sad Dogs in Heaven: Finding Comfort After the Loss of a Pet can make you experience more interested to read.
